INTRODUCTION

One of radio's best adventure programs. The series was a very intense run from beginning to end. There was rarely a slow or dragging program.

ESCAPE took the listener, tired of the everyday grind, and placed him in a perilous world of high adventure and intrigue. Week after week the stories gripped the listener in perilous situations with everything from being trapped in a lighthouse surrounded by millions of ravenous rats to floating on a raft in an empty sea with three thirsty escaped killers and a New Caledonia native unaffected by the relentless sun. This very popular program aired over CBS from July 7, 1947 to September 25, 1954.

The series was for the most part sustained by the CBS radio network. Sponsorship came from the Ford Motor Company and the Richfield Oil Corporation in 1950 for a total of 19 programs. Plymouth sponsored two broadcasts in 1953.

These broadcasts have held the test of time. The broadcast of 11/12/47 "The Young Man With The Cream Tarts," was broadcast as "The Suicide Club" 27 years later on 05/07/74 over the CBS Radio Mystery Theater. Other scripts were also used in the 1970's Radio Mystery Theater like, "An Occurrence At Owl Creek Bridge," "The Fall Of The House Of Usher," & "Diary Of A Madman."

A few words about information contained in this log. There were nine series of broadcasts. Within each series, the scripts were numbered from one to the last script in that series. As an example, 06/28/53 One-Eighth Apache, is script #38 for the eighth series of the ESCAPE run.

36 scripts were used for 48 repeat broadcasts. An earlier broadcast was not simply re-broadcast, but produced again, with cast changes. For this reason, this log will help collectors determine the correct broadcast date for the programs in their collection. In order to do this, not only is the cast credits listed here, but also the complete opening text. On some broadcasts, just a couple of words in the opening are different. So listen carefully while comparing the opening text in this log and the audio copy of your program.

Broadcast times will show a three hour difference between east and west coast programming.

Several scripts were written for ESCAPE and announced as "next weeks," broadcast, but were never used. The titles of these scripts and intended broadcast dates were:

"The Haunted Man" was scheduled for 08/29/48 & 09/12/48.
"The Canterville Ghost" was scheduled for 04/23/49

Dead Of Night (Audition/Pilot show)

Adapted by: The CBS Division of Program Writing
(From Universal British motion picture "Dead Of Night")

Directed by: John Moseman

Cast:

Eric Nixon ----- Berry Kroeger

Toby (the dummy) ----- Art Carney

OPENING ANNOUNCER:

Time...to escape.

Escape...from now...from here...from yourself. Columbia invites you to voyage into the realms of imagination. Each week we present adventures of men and women who escape into the misty land of between the credible and the incredible. Tonights story of ESCAPE tells of a dummy with a wooden head and wooden arms and even a wooden heart who served a master, until one day this master heard him say, "I've had enough of you, I don't need you anymore." Escape now into the strange adventure of Eric Nixon and his dummuy Toby.

CLOSING ANNOUNCEMENT:

Tonights voyage of Escape into the realms that lie between the credible and incredible has ended. But we hasten to invite you to voyage with us at this same time next week when we will bring you the strange adventure of a man who searched the Brazilian jungle for a diamond as big as the Ritz. Your ticket for the voyage is merely your desire to join all hands aboard, when CBS again presents ESCAPE.

NOTE: Even though the closing announcement promised an escape the following week, the program would not get off the ground until 03/21/47.

You are together in a room, you and the one you love, the objects of an experiment, while the man who has dared you to undergo his test, is waiting for the moment when you break, and in your defeat find that there is no escape.

This is the week, Thursdays the day, the day the brand new '54 high styled Plymouth makes its debut. And what a car. Big, bright, beautiful. Longer this year with a sleek, low, wide look, and a new kind of beauty to set everyone talking, everyone exclaiming about Plymouth's luxurious high style. Never before in the low price field have you seen such elegance in the appointments of a car. Such fabulous fabrics, and choice of color combinations. Such unusual attention to detail. It's high style alright, exclusive in the new 1954 Plymouth. And remember, Thursdays the day to see the new Plymouth and also to enter the big Plymouth contest. $25,000.00 in prizes including six handsome new '54 Plymouths. We'll tell you more about this exciting contest later in the show. Meanwhile remember, Thursdays the day to visit your Plymouth dealer for a first hand look at the big, bright, beautiful, new '54 Plymouth.

Listen now as ESCAPE brings you Stephen Vincent Benet's unusual story, "Elementals."

CLOSING ANNOUNCER: (before broadcast credits are given)

Would you like to win a brand new 1954 high styled Plymouth convertible? Well then, be sure to enter the big Plymouth contest that starts this Thursday. $25,000.00 in prizes, including six new '54 Plymouths and hundreds of cash prizes. Your Plymouth dealer can give you an entry blank next Thursday. You'll see that it contains a complete list of the prizes and the easy rules, but don't put it off because the contest closes midnight, Monday, October 19th. So how about a big red circle on the calendar around this coming Thursday, that's the day to see the new '54 Plymouth and enter the big contest. Is it a date? (Plymouth jingle)

OPENING ANNOUNCER:

Tired of the everyday grind? Ever dream of a life of romantic adventure? Want to get away from it all? We offer you ESCAPE.

ESCAPE, designed to free you from the four walls of today for a half hour of high adventure. (MUSIC)

You stare down from the heights of your plane and your brain keeps whispering it's Masapuera, that's all it is, just an island three hundred miles off the coast of Chile, but both you and the beautiful girl beside you know it's more than that, it's the last stop, the last time around, a death trap from which there is no escape. Listen now as ESCAPE brings you Tony Barrett's story, "The Target."

NOTE: "The Red Heart Of Kali" is announced as next weeks program.

OPENING ANNOUNCER:

Tired of the everyday grind? Ever dream of a life of romantic adventure? Want to get away from it all? We offer you ESCAPE.

ESCAPE, designed to free you from the four walls of today for a half hour of high adventure. (MUSIC)

You are at the end of a journey you've commented murder to make, a barren wasteland of India, silent, isolate, where there is a cave and a carved imagine of the goddess Kail, who's heart is a ruby big as a grenade, and which is guarded by a smiling old man from whom there is no escape. Listen now as ESCAPE brings you Ross Murray's story, "The Heart Of Kali."

CLOSING ANNOUNCER:

Next week. That's right, GUNSMOKE. Now a word from William Conrad, who many of you know as marshall Matt Dillon of Dodge City.

Conrad: Thank you George. You know, today marks the last of the current series of ESCAPE program and I know that you will miss it as much as I has. However, I would like to think that all of you that have listened to ESCAPE these many months, will now be able to take your pleasure in listening to GUNSMOKE. Yes, starting next week, GUNSMOKE you come to you on a new day and a new time. Chester, Doc, Kitty and I, together with all of our strong minded, brawling, hard living citizens of Dodge, will come to you next Saturday, October the 2nd. So, goodbye for ESCAPE, and we hope you'll all tune into your local CBS radio station next Saturday, October 2nd for GUNSMOKE. Until then, thank you and good night.
